L.O: To understand the concept of 'keeping a secret.'

Success Criteria:

- To define a 'good secret' and a 'bad secret'*
- Know when it is and isn't appropriate to keep a secret.*
- Know who my trusted adults are.*

Have you ever been asked to keep an exciting secret (e.g. surprise party)? How did it feel to hold that secret inside?

Are all secrets 'good secrets'?

When might a secret be a 'bad secret'?

Watch "Good secret bad secret - boys"

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hYlUT5CBXCo>

Why was Kevin moody?

How did the boy help Kevin?

How does the boy explain 'good secrets' and 'bad secrets'?

What advice does the boy give? Why is this good advice?

The boys feel brave, safe and strong at the end - how?

Look at the following secrets below. Before deciding whether these are secrets you should share or not, are they good secrets or bad secrets?

- ♥ We are having a surprise party for my Nan
- ♥ My brother keeps hurting me
- ♥ My parents are getting a divorce
- ♥ I have a new online friend and I am going to meet them tomorrow
- ♥ I am moving house
- ♥ My Mum is going to have a baby
- ♥ My sister keeps taking all my pocket money. She says if I tell she will hurt me
- ♥ My Mums friend hugs me and tells me it's our secret
- ♥ We are getting a big cake for my Mum. It's a surprise!

Who are your trusted adults?
